

Scroll 1

LUSTRIA

Lustria News

Post Turn 1

ORC HOARD TAKES THE GOLDEN SPIRE OF CHOTEC

In an unbecoming feat of jungle navigation the Orc hoard has managed to find passage and take control of the Golden Spire of Chotec. It is this reporters firm belief that the way the Orcs made the difficult journey was to have Bob the giant toss a few of the goblins out over the jungle until one miraculously landed on the Golden Spire.

The great golden tower is rumored to be able to focus the rays of the sun in to a devastating weapon. In ancient times their were tales of this death ray blazing through enemy forces from a great distance.

LSG

TOMB KINGS MAKE A LATE LANDING

The undead legions of the Tomb Kings have landed their undead ships on the Eastern cost. Not known for their seamanship it seems most of the long dead just walked up out of the waves. Whether they left their ships behind of they lost them in transit, it matters not, the army has made the long sail, or trek, from Khemri to try and stake a claim here in Lustria.

LSG

LIZARMEN UNITE!

Attention all Spawnings. We must unite to defend our homeland and vanquish all these invaders. Let us put aside our differences and feast on the flesh of those not born of the egg.

LSG

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS IN THE JUNGLE

In the North West the Lizardmen attempt to liberate the Temple City of Tulum from the ravages of the Dark Elves. The Brentonian forces lay in for a long siege as they attempt to take the Temple Fortress of Hexoatl.

The Lizardmen forces move to protect the River Ford and the Monster's Lair from the invaders of our land.

The north west remains predominatly Lizard Men owned lands with a significant Dark Elf presence in the norbthern mountains and a Empire force raiding the Tomb of Gold.

Both the Lizardmen and the Empire forces of Marco Columbo attempted to take the River Ford and the Lizardmen prevailed, or was it the jungle who won, and forced the forces of Marco Columbo back to the Jungles of Despair. The fowl Skaven moved in to desecrate the Monsters Lair held by the Dwarves The Goblin forces manage to cut their way through the jungle and take the Golden Spire of Chotec.

The South West is heavily occupied with Orcs, and a presence of Empire, Skaven and Dwarves. There are a few Lizard men armies present.

In trying to vanquish the dread Vampire presence from the East cost the Lizardmen were defeated at the Pirate Encampment and forced to retreat to the Obsidian Column.

The Tomb Kings second Fleet finally makes it across the vast ocean and lands at Skeggi.

The North East is heavily occupied by the mystery army and the Brentonians with a presence of both Vampire Counts and Tomb Kings. There are no Lizardmen armies here.

The Dwarves march from the Jungles of Despair and try to take the Well of Time from the Skaven. The Vampire armies take the Monument of the Moon, expanding their dark empire down the East cost. The Tomb Kings advance from across the sea and land at Shelter Cove. The Lizardmen lend their protection th the City of the Dead.

The Southeast is heavily occupied by Vampire counts with a presence of Skaven, Dwarves and Tomb Kings. There are a few Lizardmen armies present.